DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 2 recites the limitation "electronic security data" in line 13. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. Examiner suggests the cited limitation be corrected to "electronic security device."

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-2, 4-5, 8 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Deo et al US Patent No. 5,721,781. Deo discloses an authentication system for smart card transactions.
5. With regards to claims 1, 5 and 8, Deo teaches the interrogating of an electronic transaction terminal with an electronic security device to obtain an integrity metric for the electronic financial terminal (Deo, column 5 lines 45-50, column 8 lines 33-42), determining if the transaction terminal is a trusted terminal based upon the integrity metric (Deo, column 5 lines 45-50, column 8 lines 33-42, certificate), and allowing financial transaction data to be input into the transaction terminal if the transaction terminal is identified as a trusted terminal (Deo, Figure 8 Item 132, column 10 lines 25-30).

6. With regards to claim 2, Deo teaches the providing of user identification data for the user of the electronic security device to the transaction terminal via the security device to allow authorization of the transaction associated with the financial transaction data (Deo, column 9 lines 24-38).

7. With regards to claim 4, Deo teaches the compartmenting of different types of transactions into different compartments (Deo, column 4 line 63 – column 5 line 4).

8. With regards to claim 10, Deo teaches the device being a wireless trusted personnel device (Deo, column 4 lines 22-35).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

10. Claims 3 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Deo et al US Patent No. 5,721,781 in view of Audebert US Patent No. 6,694,436.

Audebert discloses a terminal and system for performing secure electronic transactions.

Art Unit: 2134

11. With regards to claims 3 and 6, Deo fails to teach the displaying of a user secret if the terminal is identified as a trusted terminal. Audebert teaches the displaying of a user secret if the terminal is identified as a trusted terminal (Audebert, column 25 line 65 – column 26 line 25, password displayed by terminal). At the time the invention was made, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art to utilize Audebert's method of displaying secrets if a terminal is trusted with Deo's authentication system because it offers the advantage of providing assurance to the user that the terminal module is authentic and safe for use (Audebert, column 26 lines 19-25).

12. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Deo et al US Patent No. 5,721,781 and Audebert US Patent No. 6,694,436, as applied to claim 6 above, and in further view of Hind et al US Patent No. 6,772,331. Hind discloses a method for exclusively pairing wireless devices.

13. With regards to claim 7, Deo as modified fails to teach the deleting of the user secret after completing the transaction. Hind discloses the deleting of the user secret after completing the transaction (Hind, column 9 lines 57-61). At the time the invention was made, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art to utilize Hind's deletion method with Deo as modified because it offers the advantage of increasing security by reducing the likelihood that a secret may be compromised and used for impersonating a user (Hind, column 3 lines 17-32).

Art Unit: 2134

14. Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Deo et al US Patent No. 5,721,781 in view of Boerbert US Patent No. 5,272,754. Boerbert discloses a secure computing interface.

15. With regards to claim 9, Deo fails to teach a switch for initiating transfer of financial transaction data to the transaction terminal if the terminal is identified as trusted. Boerbert teaches teach a switch for initiating transfer of financial transaction data to the transaction terminal if the terminal is identified as trusted (Boerbert, column 10 line 63 – column 11 line 2). At the time the invention was made, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art to utilize Boerbert's method of switching with Deo's authentication system because it offers the advantage of giving assurance that a user is operating the device and instructing transmission to take place instead of malicious software impersonating a user (Boerbert, column 2 lines 10-24).

16. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

17. Merritt US Patent No. 5,475,756 discloses a method for authenticating a terminal in a transaction execution system.
